

Quality Policy

Constant Power Services aim to provide the products and services that our customers require in order to conduct their business safely and effectively through our commitment to innovation and continual improvement.

Our highest priority is to build on our reputation of supplying high quality products to meet our customers' needs and expectations through a continual improvement in our standards of service.

To help us achieve our objectives, Riello S.p.A, our parent company, has a design & manufacturing plant that has full accreditation to the BS EN ISO 9001:2008 Quality Standard. These objectives are established at the highest level of Management and will be set for all departments and monitored periodically.

It is the responsibility and objective of all employees to assist in the establishment and maintenance of our good reputation and to comply with requirements of this policy to continually improve our products and the Quality Management System.

We are also committed to providing our staff with the training needed to understand and implement all the aspects of the Quality Systems, which apply to their particular activities.
